

2015 FARMING & BIODIVERSITY COMPETITION FOR 2ND LEVEL AGRICULTURAL SCIENCE STUDENTS

THIS YEAR'S 'TWITTER'-BASED THEME:
'FARMING & WATER QUALITY: BEST PRACTICE'
5 Samsung Galaxy Tablets to be Won!!!

Tweet a photo & caption on 'best practice' water protection on the Farm to be in with a chance to win!

Rules & Guidelines:

1. Take a photo of 'best practice' in water protection on the Farm; this could be an image of farmyard water management, use of rainwater harvest, provision of 'buffer zones' along water courses, etc.
2. Tweet your photo, with a caption, to @StreamScapes you must also mention @EPACatchments to qualify for the competition!
3. Entries will be judged 60% on photo quality and 40% on caption!
4. Deadline for entries Friday 6 November 2015
5. To be a prize-winner, you must be able to attend the Award Ceremony which will be held at some time during National Science Week (8-15 November 2015)
6. Winners will be messaged and requested to provide their Name, School, Teacher Name, and Contact details (phone and email)
7. Decision of the judges is final and no correspondence will be entered into.

Produced by Irish Agricultural Science Teachers' Association (IASTA) & StreamScapes for the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA)

www.iasta.ie www.streamscapes.ie www.epa.ie

