

StreamScapes 2022 National Biodiversity Week Events

@ 'The StreamSchool', Coomhola, Bantry, Co. Cork P75 TY47

(All events free and open to the Public; check day-by-day start times below)

FRI 13 MAY: Following Schools Engagements during the day, come along and attend a 'Salmon Sanctuaries' event from 3:00-5:00pm with Mark Boyden & Jessica Mason

SAT 14 MAY: 'Introduction to River Biodiversity', with Ecologist & Teacher Jessica Mason: 11:00AM-1:00PM

SUN 15 MAY: 'Salmon Sanctuaries', with Jessica Mason & Mark Boyden: 2:00-4:00PM

FRI 20 MAY: Following Schools Engagements during the Day, an 'Introduction to River Ecology' event with Heritage-in-Schools Teacher & noted forager Stephanie O'Toole & Rauri Maguire: 3:00-5:00pm

SAT 21 MAY: 'Salmon Sanctuaries', with Stephanie O'Toole & Rauri Maguire, 1:00-3:00PM

SUN 22 MAY: 'Coomhola River-Blue Dot Catchment'; This event is particularly targeted at residents of the Coomhola River Catchment, but wider attendance is welcome. Mark Boyden, Stephanie O'Toole, and Rauri Maguire will look at: What is a Blue Dot Catchment & what does this mean for Coomhola? 1:00-3:00PM

Note: The 'Salmon Sanctuaries' Event includes presentation, discussion, field trip, viewing of the 'Salmon Sanctuaries' short film and free distribution of the Booklet (see <https://bit.ly/3F3H1wt>).

StreamScapes National Biodiversity Week Events are produced by Coomhola Salmon Trust & supported by IEN

Coomhola Salmon Trust

We are members of and funded by

Irish Environmental Network

With further thanks to the National Parks & Wildlife Service (NPWS)